Programme Highlights

The theme of the HKES 2025 is "The Cornerstone of Low Altitude Economy Success – Mobility, Security, and Sustainability". The aim of this symposium is to promote the innovative technologies and development in areas such as telecommunication technologies, AI and the digital industry for low-altitude economy, and how electronics engineering contributes our city in unlocking the low-altitude airspace as a new production factor for our economy. Presentations and panel discussion will cover the views of speakers on the drive required to accomplish the initiatives to the success of low-altitude economy in Hong Kong. We also aim to uplift the awareness and the knowledge of various enabling technologies and nurture engineers and students to effectively use innovative technologies for building a smarter Hong Kong.
